Naples, October 27.

THERE have already been raised, in pursuance of the Pope's Bull, upwards of Eleven Hundred Thousand Ducats upon the Clergy of this Kingdom, which are to be immediately employed in augmenting the Number of our armed Vessels that are to cruize on the Barbary Corsairs. Yesterday in the Evening was felt here, and at Portici, a most violent Shock of an Earthquake, but it happily did no considerable Damage. They write from Nole, that on the 22d Instant, they had there, and in that Neighbourhood, a most violent Storm of Thunder and Lightning, which falling upon the Palace of Prince Palmerici, had reduced a great Part of it to Ashes, with all its rich Furniture, and done a deal of Damage to other Buildings.

Turin, Nov. 4. The King has published an Ordonnance, dated the 25th of September, which prolongs that of the 29th of April last, and allows a free Pardon to all Deserters who shall return to their respective Regiments before the End of January next.

Warsaw, Nov. 4. This Kingdom seems at present to enjoy almost a perfect Tranquillity, the Tribunal of the Crown continuing its Assembly with all possible Success, and we hear no more of the Disputes which ran so high amongst the principal Families of this Kingdom; the only Thing which seems at present to give us any Uneasiness, is the continual Incursions made by the Heyducks on our Frontiers, who appear lately in greater Numbers than ever, a Detachment of which having crossed Volhinia, entered Polesia in Lithuania, where they committed the most unheard of Cruelties, having not only plundered several Villages, but even set Fire to the same, and massacred many of the common People, as well as some of the better Sort.

Vienna, Nov. 7. The Weather is set in so very cold, that their Imperial Majesties leave Schonbrun this Day, in order to come to their Palace in this City for the Winter. Prince Esterhazy set out this Morning from hence on his Embassy to Naples.

Berlin, Nov. 14. The Margravine of Ba-reith continues daily to gather Strength, so that we are in great Hopes the Cause of her late Illness has quite left her. Count Falckenhayn, one of the King's Chamberlains, and Commander of the Order of Malta, is arrived here from Silesia, to regulate several Affairs relating to that Order.

Frankfort, Nov. 15. We are informed by several private Letters which have been received here from Augsbouurg, that the Baron de Rodt has been elected Bishop of Constance.

Utrecht, Nov. 18. The Prince and Princess of Orange, with the Hereditary Prince, and Princess Caroline, arrived here Yesterday in the Afternoon from Loo, and were soon after complimented thereupon by the States of this Province, the Lords of the Regency, and a great Number of the Nobility and Gentry. His Serene Highness supped with the Baron de Giessenbourg; after which he embarked on Board his Yatch for the Hague. But her Royal Highness, with the young Prince and Princess, did not set out for the Hague till this Morning.

Hague, Nov. 19. His Serene Highness the Prince of Orange arrived here Yesterday Morning from Loo, and was immediately complimented thereupon by their High Mightinesses; after which his Highness assisted at the Assembly of the States of Holland and Westfriesland. And the Princess Royal, with the young Prince and Princess, arrived here in perfect Health the same Evening.

Whitehall, November 13, 1750.

Whereas Mr. Richard Newman, of Westham Abby in the County of Essex, Callicoe Printer, received by the General Post, on the 2d of this Instant November, an anonymous Letter, dated the 30th of October, threatening the Lives and Houses of him, and all Callicoe Printers, and others, if they do not pay off their Irish Servants in one Month from the Date thereof, as the Englishmen are starving for want of Work, and adding, that some of them would wait at the Swan at Stratford every Sunday till the 30th of November, and therefore, that the abovesaid Gentlemen should beware: His Majesty is therefore pleased to promise his most gracious
